WOMEN LEAD AUSTRIAN MOBS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Vienna, Jan. 23.—Women led many of the famished mobs in Austria. The women of the industrial communities where rioting has occurred in connection with the general strike, according to information from the front today.

The Austrian Socialists are becoming more active and there are indications that they are in direct communication with the Russian Bolsheviks.

Travelers arriving from the front today said that there is no doubt that the successful Bolshevik counter-revolution in Russia has exerted a widespread influence upon the Austrian working classes.

"Bread and peace" is now the national demand of the Austro-Hungarians.

An unconfirmed report was received today that soldiers fired upon a band of rioters in Vienna who were marching through the streets with red flags and banners inscribed with such phrases as "Give up peace" and "Long live Trotsky."

One mob that tried to approach Emperor Charles's palace in Vienna was driven off and later the military guard around the grounds was strengthened.

The Austrian government claims that the situation is fighting itself and that the workmen, satisfied with the promised reforms and higher wages, are returning to their places.

Pressure is being brought to bear upon Hungary to release some of her stock of cereals to relieve the food situation in Austria. Hungary is reported to have to surplus of grain but has hoarded it flatly refusing to release any part of it for Germany or Austria.

A copy of the Socialist newspaper Vorwarts of Berlin was received here today containing a long article upon the Austrian situation. The Vorwarts calls it "a grave economic crisis containing far-reaching possibilities."

INCOME TAX FORM 1040-A IS HERE

It is the Form Used by Individuals in Making Return on Net Income. For Exceeding $20,000—Important Rulings by Department.

A supply of copies of Form 1040-A, which must be used by individuals having a net income of less than $3,000 a year in making their income tax return to the government, has been received by Deputy Internal Revenue Collector John S. Darrow for distribution to persons who must make a return of their income during the year 1917.

The return to be made by all persons subject to the income tax must be filed with the collector of internal revenue in the district in which the person making the return lives, and it must reach him on or before March first. The penalty for failing to make a return on time is not less than $20 nor more than $1,000, and in addition fifty per cent of the amount of tax due. For making a false or fraudulent return, the penalty is not exceeding $2,000 or not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court, and in addition, one hundred per cent of the tax evaded. Income taxes must be paid on or before the fifteenth of June, to the collector to whom the return is sent, and for failing to pay the tax when due, the penalty is five per cent of the amount unpaid, plus one per cent interest for each full month during which it remains unpaid.

Inquiries in regard to the proper way in which to make a return continue to be made daily to Deputy Collector Darrow at the supervisors' room at the court house. All information is strictly confidential, and taxpayers are advised in regard to rulings which have been made by the treasury department.

Notice of two important rulings has been received by Deputy Collector Darrow. One is to the effect that water rates are not deductible. The other ruling is that floor taxes on distilled spirits and cigars are not deductible but must be considered as an increase of capital.

FLOUR OUTLOOK STILL SERIOUS

It is estimated that there is just about enough flour in Kingston at the present time to keep the local bakeries running until the last of the week and possibly part of next week. But if none is received in the meantime the bakeries will have to close.

CHICAGO BENEFITS FROM FUEL ORDER

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, Jan. 23.—Released from the idleness enforced by the five day shut down order of the United States fuel administrator, ten thousand factories are humming in the Chicago district today and more than $1,000,000 of capital is again at work.

Estimates of the money loss entailed by the shut-down as compiled by John M. Glenn of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, total $36,500,000. The total wage loss, Glenn declared, will equal $18,500,000, while the loss of production will reach $20,000,000.

Although industries suffered losses from the shut-down the general belief among manufacturers here is that the fuel order proved beneficial in that it relieved an acute coal situation.

Receipts of coal here are declared to be nearly normal and the blocked tracks to the mines are reported clear. Most industries, it is declared, have almost a normal supply of coal on hand and unless other storms tie up traffic in the middle west, no further restriction of coal consumption is expected.

PARTY LINES MAY BE DRAWN

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 23.—Wide party rifts in congress were apparent today as the result of Senator Stone's partisan speech of Monday and the appearance of Col. Roosevelt here yesterday.

The arrival of Col. Roosevelt and his meetings with members of both chambers of congress, has caused no little worry at the capitol. Democrats do not stand alone in the fear that Col. Roosevelt will bring partisanship into play. Certain members of congress who were invited to confer with Col. Roosevelt did it, they said, with reluctance for fear "it will be misinterpreted."

Col. Roosevelt has spoken loudly for progress in the war without party lines. Close observers declare, however, that his appearance here at this time cannot fail to bring the inevitable result of party lines.

When Senator Chamberlain's bill providing for a war cabinet comes before congress for action, it is then that Col. Roosevelt's influence will be felt politically, it is claimed.

FLOOD DAMAGE IN GERMANY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
The Hague, Jan. 23.—Heavy damage is being caused throughout Germany by floods. Advises from Berlin today said that a tremendous fall of snow has been succeeded by warm weather and rain and that many streams are out of their bounds.

Hundreds of acres of farm land are under water, bridges have been washed away and scores of industries have been compelled to shut down. Railway traffic in some districts is paralyzed and telegraph and telephone services are crippled.

The greatest damage to the munitions industry has occurred in the Rhine Valley where thousands of soldiers are employed in clearing away the wreckage and salvaging property floating in the water.

ICE HARVEST IS BEING RUSHED

With favorable weather conditions the ice harvest in this vicinity will likely be completed this month. The only house not working is the one at Steep Rocks which is shut down owing to dirty ice being encountered.

It is said that there are about 25,000 tons already harvested and stored in the house, which will hold in the neighborhood of 30,000 tons. The ice harvest so far this season has been marred by but few accidents, and those of a minor nature.

Harden Denounces Annexation.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Amsterdam, Jan. 23.—The annexation of Poland, Courland and adjacent Russian territory would create "another Alsace-Lorraine for Germany in the east," is the warning that Maximilian Harden, famous German editor, sounds in his newspaper Die Zukunft. Harden defends the peace program of the Russians, attacks the German annexationists and calls Trotsky, the Bolshevik foreign minister, a great man.

Conductorette Fainted.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Jan. 23.—Traffic was tied up for forty minutes on the Sixth Avenue surface line when Miss Florence Smith, conductorette, fainted and fell off her seat at the coin box.

THREE CRACK FLYERS IN FRANCE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, Jan. 23.—(By Cable.) "Hobey" Baker, former Princeton half-back, together with Cord Meyer of New York, and Blair Thaw, brother of Major William Thaw, have proved to be three of the best aviators sent over to France by the United States Signal Corps, up to date.

The trio, therefore, are being sent to join the Lafayette Escadrille, now taken over by the United States army, but which is still stationed in Champagne and attached to the French army. They will have a period of intensive training to enable them to qualify as flight commanders for the various escadrilles which will be made up by the United States army.

Already the Signal Corps has enough flight commanders and squadron leaders to handle about fifty escadrilles, the pupils now undergoing instruction in French, British and American schools more than providing enough material to keep the various air units up to strength.

A cablegram was received from Paris on January 8 stating that Baker had brought down his first German machine.

AUSTRIANS RESENT GERMAN CONTROL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Stockholm, Jan. 23.—Bitter hostility is springing up between the German and Austro-Hungarian soldiers on the eastern front and actual fighting has broken out. It was reported from Petrograd today.

German troops were used to try to stop the wholesale fraternization between the Austro-Hungarians and the Russians. When the Germans tried to clear the Russian trenches of Austro-Hungarians and the Austro-Hungarian trenches of Russians, they were fired upon. A battle with artillery developed in which a number of men were killed.

The same despatch added that the Bolshevik government at Petrograd is gaining power and that Bolshevik influence has led to a strong revolutionary movement in Roumania.

Where is Sultan Mohammed?
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Eschschaba, Mich., Jan. 23.—What's this? Sultan Mohammed in the United States army. Yes, really, if the draft board here can get hold of him. Sultan, surnamed Mohammed, is reported for army service here last June but has been entirely absent ever since. He has been called for examination January 28 and if he does not appear the "slacker catchers" will be put on his trail.

WAR CABINET BILL TO BE DEFEATED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 23.—President Wilson is confident today that the bills creating a war cabinet and a minister of munitions have been defeated. A "count of noses" by administration lieutenants has shown a majority against the measures in the House. The result in the Senate is in doubt if the Republicans stick as a unite for the bills. But the lieutenants of the administration today were working tooth and nail to whip the recalcitrant Democrats back into line with the White House. And their reports indicated some success.

The administration is prepared further to defend its acts in the conduct of the war. Without violating any military secrets it can be stated that the president told senators as late as Monday night that the record of actual performance was greater than any heretofore in the history of the country. More troops were in Europe, more men are behind the lines and there are more supplies for their use available at the present moment than even the most optimistic officials had thought possible, the senators were informed.

In addition it was stated that right now many divisions of troops were ready to be sent across, but were retained here because of certain physical difficulties that had to be overcome on the other side. Just what these difficulties are cannot be indicated. But they are matters for which the United States is in no way responsible. And they are being remedied as rapidly as possible.

Placing the entire transportation service of the navy under one direction, with Commander Charles Belknap, formerly naval censor, in command, has already worked wonders. Belknap, one of the greatest organizers in the navy, has perfected the naval overseas transportation service, as the new arrangement is called, so that trips now are being made on schedule which has reduced the running time materially while adding to the movement a maximum of protection which was impossible under former loose methods. Officials who are familiar with what Belknap has accomplished believe that it is only a question of a short time when the vessels of the army and those of the shipping board, now not in the organization, will be placed there.

It is because of this fact and other important developments in the war game that has crystallized the administration opposition to any radical change at the present time. Last week the president was inclined to believe that if the super-men who were needed for the war cabinet could be found he might accept such a plan and try it out. But when he analyzed the army and navy reports which were placed before him and looked over the men suggested for membership in the war cabinet he took a strong position against it. And his public announcement of Monday night, in which he challenged the accuracy of the statements of the men favoring the change, had the effect of changing sentiment in congress materially.

Today the administration leaders were centering their efforts on the senate. It is realized that if the war cabinet bill and that authorizing a minister of munitions pass the higher branch of congress, public pressure to agree to the plan will be exerted from all sections of the country.

BRITISH LABOR BACKS LLOYD-GEORGE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Nottingham, Jan. 23.—British labor today backed up the peace terms announced by President Wilson and Premier Lloyd-George.

"Unless Germany accepts the aims of President Wilson and Premier Lloyd-George and labor's minimum terms we must fight on," declared Chairman Purdy in opening the annual conference of the Labor Party here today.

This ringing declaration was received with cheers. Chairman Purdy continued: "A negotiated peace while Germany occupied the territory of other nations would be a German victory."

FREIGHT EMBARGO ON PENN. R. R.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 23.—Director General of Railroads McAdoo today acceded to Fuel Administrator Garfield's request for an embargo on freight to relieve the coal shortage. He issued an order barring all freight except fuel, food and war supplies from the Pennsylvania railroad east of Pittsburgh, the Baltimore and Ohio, east of the Ohio river and all of the lines of the Philadelphia and Reading.

Socialist Paper Suspended.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
The Hague, Jan. 23.—The German Socialist newspaper Vorwarts has been suspended for three days for printing details of the Austrian general strike, said a despatch from Berlin today.

LIEUT. DONOVAN AT CAMP GORDON

FIRST LIEUT. HARRY W. DONOVAN, son of Capt. Timothy Donovan, graduated from University of Pennsylvania, June, 1917, enlisted in Medical Reserve Corps, received his commission and is now stationed at Camp Gordon, near Atlanta, Georgia.

MORE PRAISE FOR COMFORT KIT

Private Regendahl, in Officers' Training School at Camp Dix, Describes His Work in Letter to Home Detachment.

Appreciation of the Comfort Kit presented to him before he entered the First Battery Training School for Officers at Camp Dix, N. J., is expressed to the Home Defense Committee of Ulster county in a letter from Private Lloyd F. Regendahl of this city, who also describes his life in camp.

Private Regendahl writes: "I want to thank the gentlemen of the Home Defense Committee, through you, for the fine Comfort Kit you secured for me before I left Kingston. The goods in it are certainly going to be very handy as time goes on here in camp. The bag itself would even be fine for any soldier, and especially so in my case as here we are only allowed two nails on which to hang our clothes, overcoats and barracks bags on one nail and our personal clothes on the other nail. We have inspection every Saturday and the smallest details are looked into. Anything out of place gives us a bad mark and counts against our final ratings for officers' work."

"I would have written before but we are so very busy that we hardly get time to think. We get up at 5:45 a. m. and are finished at 9 p. m., with only about two and one-half hours around meal times to ourselves."

"There are about 220 of us here at the Field Artillery School and all are the finest of men. About two-thirds, I should say, are college men and the rest are the brightest of the National Regular and State Militia armies. We have only been here two weeks but all are willing to stick together through almost anything."

"We are located at the corner of First street and the main road leading south as you leave the Camp Dix railroad station, and are only about four minutes' walk from the station, so if any of you men ever get down here, just drop in and we will do our best to show you around."

"At present the whole camp is in quarantine for about three weeks, due to about fifty cases of measles in the National Army camp, so we won't be able to ever go to Wrightstown over the week end. I forgot to mention that our school has from Saturday noon until Sunday taps free, but now you see quarantine stops our weekly fun. However, tonight we expect to entertain ourselves and we will do it in fine time."

"I'll stop now as I have to get ready to go to the hospital to be inoculated the second time against typhoid. The first shot, as you call it, didn't make me sick and I have hopes of fighting on the second, but I'll know more about that tomorrow."

"I want to thank you men again for the kit as it sure is fine."

Yours respectfully,
"PRT. L. F. REGENDAHL."
Dr. Coffin Here Monday.
Dr. Coffin, the state C. E. president, will speak Monday evening at the First Reformed Church and all interested in Christian Endeavor work are urged to attend.

EMBARGO ON ALL BUT COAL AND FOOD

This Step May Be Made Necessary by the Storms Having Interfered With Operation of the Railways.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 23.—Whether an embargo is to be declared on all freight excepting coal and food by the government-controlled railroads will be decided by Director McAdoo after he has fully analyzed all of the figures submitted to him by Fuel Director Garfield.

Garfield has told McAdoo this action is imperative because the weather conditions have about tied up all railroads in the country. Last night the five day suspension of industry ended. Today the various factories throughout the country were working full time and according to Dr. Garfield if their product is allowed to take precedence over fuel and food contention which will be even more serious than that which caused the original suspension order must prevail.

McAdoo, however, has indicated that he does not think so and today his traffic experts were working on the subject. Instead he believes that a scheme can be worked out, and his experts and those of the fuel administration now are working on it, whereby all coal will be sent through to localities by the shortest possible routes. Under this plan coal will go forward from the nearest mines to the various localities thus eliminating hauls which seemingly are unnecessary and in that way aiding the situation.

Another plan in this connection will be the dividing of the country into zones. This method will aid distribution and it is expected that in arranging these zones Fuel Administrator Garfield will have the assistance of a committee of mine operators and workers. They will be advised by Howard Elliott and A. G. Gutheim, representing Railway Director McAdoo.

The fuel situation still is the most serious problem confronting the government. The shutting down for five days helped a little. But because of the unprecedented severity of the weather which has prevailed, almost crippling all railroads, the relief hoped for was far short of expectations. The majority of the eastern railroads have been so crippled that they have not even handled the normal amount of fuel and had it not been that the supply actually handled was diverted to family consumers, great suffering and probably many deaths must have occurred.

Hundreds of engines and thousands of freight cars have been put out of business by the cold weather. Reports received by the railway director show that this condition prevails all along the main lines of trans-continental roads east of Chicago. Because of the shortage of locomotives many of these engines remain on sidings unheated and their condition is growing worse instead of better. In addition the regular forces of track men on most of the railroads have been unable to work because of the severe weather and switches and sidings are reported in bad condition.

MEAT PACKERS THREATEN STRIKE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 23.—A packing house strike involving 150,000 workers that would paralyze practically the entire industry was threatened here today through the failure of the packers' representatives to appear at a joint hearing before the secretary of labor's mediation board. The representatives of the unions waited until almost noon, then plainly angered began drafting a letter demanding that the packers appear before the joint hearing forthwith. Leaders of the men declared they had ample power to cause a walkout unless the packers agreed to discuss their differences. It was stated however that President Wilson would be consulted first.

BRITISH ATTACK ALL ALONG LINE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Amsterdam, Jan. 23.—A terrific air and sea attack was delivered by the British against German military works, all along the Belgian coast on Tuesday, said a despatch received here today.

While British warships hurled shells against the German positions on the coast a big fleet of aeroplanes dropped bombs from the sky.

It was said that much damage was done.

Explosion in Pyrene Factory.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Jan. 23.—Six persons were injured and scores were thrown into panic here today when an explosion in the Pyrene Fire Extinguisher Company blew out all the windows in the company's nine-story building. The cause of the explosion has not been definitely determined.

THREE SHIPS SUNK 750 LIVES LOST

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Jan. 23.—The sinking of three ships with the loss of nearly 750 lives was announced in the House of Commons this afternoon by the parliamentary secretary of the admiralty.

Two of the steamships were attacked by German submarines in the Mediterranean on December 31 and destroyed. The third was sunk in the mouth of the Mersey river on the same day.

Seven hundred and eight persons perished when the vessels were lost in the Mediterranean while about forty lives were lost in the sinking at the mouth of the Mersey.

The announcement of the appalling loss of life created a profound impression.

(The Mersey river flows into the Irish Sea at Liverpool.)

BRITISH LABOR IN CONFERENCE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Nottingham, Eng., Jan. 23.—The growing political power of labor was emphasized here today when the annual conference of the Labor Party opened.

The meeting, which will last three days, took on added significance in view of the recent appeals of Premier Lloyd-George to the working classes and the growing possibility of a Liberal-Labor coalition government before the end of the year.

Peace will take a prominent part in the discussions of the delegates and labor's position in the war will be debated from every angle. Women delegates are present for the first time.

This is the most important labor meeting ever held in Great Britain and representatives from all the trade unions are present. The party is to be reorganized and a new constitution will be adopted widening the scope of the party organization to include all producers "by hand or brain."

Numerous resolutions had been prepared in advance for debate. They propose the following:

- 1.—The election of cabinet members by the house of commons.
- 2.—An early international conference of labor representatives from all countries to discuss peace.
- 3.—The retirement of all members of the labor party from cabinet posts.
- 4.—Government suppression of food profiteering and the punishment of profiteers.
- 5.—That the time has now come for a general peace by negotiations.
- 6.—That representatives of labor sit at the peace conference table.
- 7.—The holding of an international labor conference simultaneously with the general peace conference to see that the interests of the working classes are protected.
- 8.—A substantial levy on capital.
- 9.—Reforms in the British health administration.
- 10.—Workmen's compensation in England.
- 11.—A declaration in favor of home rule for India along the lines of the South African government.
- 12.—The establishment of an international language "so that the workers of the world can understand one another without the aid of an interpreter."

Among the guests of the labor party present are M. Litvinoff, the newly appointed Bolshevik ambassador to England; Camille Huysmans, secretary of the International Socialist Party; and Emil Vandervelde, leader of the Belgian Socialists and one of the prime movers in the attempt to have an international Socialist peace conference held at Stockholm.

Many members of the house of commons were present. Among them were Arthur Henderson, who is also a member of the war council, J. H. Thomas, secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Workers; Philip Snowden, J. W. Taylor, S. Walsh, A. Wilson, J. Barker, and W. Brace. Others present were Harold Wilson, head of the powerful Seamen and Firemen's Union; Robert Smillie, president of the Miners Federation; J. W. Ogden, chairman of the parliamentary committee of the trade union congress; C. W. Bowdler, secretary of the parliamentary committee; Ben Turner, head of the textile workers union, and A. Gossip, head of the furnishing trades union.

Not only will the possibility of an early peace be debated, but the position of labor after the war, with men and women competing against each other, will come in for serious consideration.

Mention of the Russian Bolshevik drew applause from the delegates and Mr. Henderson, in an address, referred to them as "Our Russian comrades." He added that the main peace principles of the Bolshevik coincided with the views of British labor.

Sewing Bee and Prayer Meeting.
In order to conserve fuel the mid-week prayer service in the chapel of the Roundout Presbyterian Church is omitted. Friday afternoon the ladies of the church will meet with Mrs. P. A. Canfield on McEntee street for a sewing bee followed by supper. In the evening the prayer service will be held at the residence.

RED CROSS WORK IN AMERICAN HOMES

The American Red Cross has just organized at national headquarters what will be known as a "Bureau of Communication." William R. Castle, Jr., formerly Assistant Dean of Harvard College and editor of the Harvard Graduate's Magazine, being the director. This bureau will supplement in a personal and humanitarian way the reports of the statistical division of the war department, which gives only official notices to relatives when a soldier is reported killed, wounded or missing.

The natural anxiety which results from an official report to relatives that a man has been "wounded" or is "missing" will, as far as possible be relieved by the bureau. It will advise, in detail, the nature and extent of the wound and will gather evidence from comrades in arms and at the hospitals and rest camps regarding those reported as "missing."

Any information of interest or comfort to relatives thus obtained will be transmitted to them through personal letters, while messages from the wounded will be sent through the same agency.

The information on which the bureau will base its reports will be gathered through a central office in Paris, under the direction of E. Gerry Chadwick of New York, aided by the Rev. Robert Davis of Englewood, N. J., and thirty assistants stationed at the base hospitals and rest camps to which soldiers are generally returned, following important engagements. With the increase in the numbers of American forces and participants in the war, this number of helpers will have to be greatly increased. The information which they will secure will, for the most part, be forwarded from the Paris office to this bureau by mail. For the present the bureau is reporting on all cases that come to its attention.

The bureau will receive through the International Red Cross office at Geneva, Switzerland, the list of American prisoners, supplied officially by the German government in cases of imprisonment. The bureau will report to relatives, after which the case will be referred to the Red Cross Bureau of American Prisoners' Relief, of which Franklin Abbott, is director.

The American Red Cross committee in Bern sends each American prisoner every two weeks three ten-pound food packages. These substantial stores are provided by the government and the American Red Cross. A sufficient quantity of supplies is now on the way to Switzerland to care for 10,000 American prisoners for a period of six months. This bureau will also be the sole agency, licensed by the war trade board, to transmit money to American and allied prisoners in Germany.

The KITCHEN CABINET

a road that begins everywhere and leads nowhere.

Marriage is never a failure—but sometimes the man or woman is.

ECONOMICAL DISHES.

A half or two of well-seasoned hamburger steak is sufficient to season a dish of macaroni or rice, making a most substantial dish.

Break up a cupful of macaroni in inch pieces and cover with boiling water well salted, to cook until tender. Put a layer of the cooked macaroni in a casserole or granite baking dish, add bits of the cooked hamburger, a little onion juice and celery salt, a little broth or butter and water, repeat until the macaroni is used. Place in the oven and bake for a half hour. Green peppers and tomatoes may be used for seasoning, if so desired.

Where chestnuts are plentiful they may make most palatable, nutritious, and at the same time, attractive dishes. Chestnuts contain carbohydrates which need cooking to make them more easily digested. Score the shell and drop them into a hot frying pan to blanch, when blanched remove the shell and thin brown skin and the nut is ready for various uses. Cooked until tender, mashed and seasoned with fat which it lacks, salted and peppered, it may be served as a vegetable with steak.

Chestnut Cakes.—Shell and blanch some good chestnuts, then cook in boiling salted water until tender. Rub them through a sieve and to every half cupful add the yolk of an egg, salt, white pepper, celery salt, and onion juice and Worcestershire sauce, to season highly. Make into meat cakes, brush with beaten egg, roll in fine crumbs, and fry in smoking hot fat. Serve as treat.

Mock Mashed Potatoes.—Cook a pound of chestnuts for a quarter of an hour, peel and skin them, and cook in a quart of milk until very soft. Add two tablespoonsful of butter, one teaspoonful of sugar, and a teaspoonful of salt. Rub through a sieve and serve the same as mashed potatoes. This makes a nice vegetable to serve with chicken, and it has the additional advantage that it can be eaten by those to whom potatoes are denied.

Fond of Chicken Hearts.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Jan. 23.—One of the largest patriotic gatherings ever held in Ellenville, assembled at Norbury Hall Sunday afternoon, under the direction of the Home Defense League, in honor of the raising of the service flag for all who have entered their country's service from the home town. The meeting was in charge of Chaplain Hobson of the league. Clayton's Band rendered music. Singing of the Star Spangled Banner by all most heartily was followed by invocation by Dr. Hobson, who then in very kindly words suitable for the most honorable occasion to which he paid high tribute. He then introduced Judge William B. Cunningham as the speaker of the afternoon. Applause lasting several minutes greeted the judge as he rose and took his place on front of platform, and when at length quiet reigned the address for patriotism went forward and was listened to with marked attention and hearty applause during the time. And for over forty-five minutes Mr. Cunningham held the large audience spellbound, delivering what is reported to be one of the very best addresses yet delivered by the judge in his home town, where he is so well and favorably known and highly respected. The service flag with its 48 stars was then displayed and an offering taken, which was presented to the Red Cross to defray expenses of making flag and all amount over for their treasury. After a band concert and singing America, the meeting adjourned.

COMPERS URGES EIGHT-HOUR DAY

By Telegram to The Freeman
Indianapolis, Jan. 23.—A universal 8-hour day during the war as a cure for the present critical coal situation, was advocated here today by Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor in an address before the convention of United Mine Workers of America. Compers defended the administration and declared that mistakes made in Washington are the price of democracy. Democracy without mistakes is impossible, he declared.

Full support of President Wilson and the administration in the conduct of the war, was urged upon the miners of the country by Mr. Compers in his address. The labor leader was scheduled to speak to the miners yesterday but his train was delayed until after adjournment.

Administration forces of the United Mine Workers lost the first round of the fight in an attempted coup to save off a vote on the report of the constitutional committee on a resolution which would change the basic law of the organization and give "outsiders" a vote in wage agreements of the central committee field. By a vote of 615 to 654 the convention defeated a motion to refer the matter to a special committee for action later in the convention.

POOR STAB AT CONSERVATION

Railroad May Have Meant Well, But Things Didn't Seem to Work Out Right.

Speaking, as somebody constantly is, of food conservation, reminds us of a little trip we made recently. This is not a funny story, but the record of a thought-provoking experience.

We boarded a train shortly before noon, accompanied by a friend. In a half-hour or so we entered the dining car in search of sustenance. On the table was a neatly printed card quoting the government's recommendations for the saving of food waste and urging the passenger to be economical in his orders.

It was pointed out that the dining car service had done its share by cutting down the portions served.

Having read the card, we ordered luncheon. It came to about $2. Believing that one order of bread would be ample for two of us, we marked down one order of bread. But the waiter leaned over and said confidentially:

"It's none of my business, sir, but you'd better have two orders of bread. If the dining car conductor sees you both eat bread, he will charge you for two orders, just the same."

So we had two orders of bread, but could eat only one. This is the way some railroads encourage food conservation.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

When It Rains Over There.

"Twas somewhere in France, and the trenches looked like some river not on the map. Paddy was on guard in the communication trenches and was up to his chest in water. Along came a Tommy, who inquired of Paddy if he could direct him to a Company of the First Blankshires. Paddy's temper was not of the best, for he had had a long, weary guard, and was not in form for being questioned.

"Holy smoke!" he replied, viewing his surroundings. "Chuck it! I'm not the bloomin' harbor master!"

Suspicious Little Girl.

A little girl went to the grocer's and asked the salesman if he had any fresh eggs.

"Yes," answered the man. "How many do you want?"

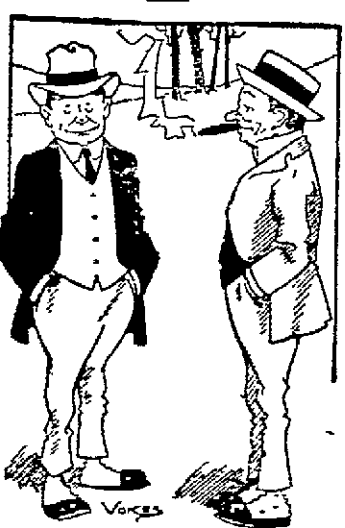

She viewed the eggs critically.

"Please sir," said she, "these are not regular eggs."

"Certainly they are."

"No, they aren't," she persisted. "I heard my papa tell my mamma there's a corner on eggs, and these are all smooth."

NOT EVERYTHING

"Has your boy forgotten everything he learned in college?"

"Oh, no; he went out rowing yesterday, and today he's out playing baseball."

Many Red-Headed Warriors.

Since the time when Pompey the Great inscribed his name in Roman history as the leading warrior of his time until Julius Caesar put an end to his career as the leading Roman general, ruddy locked soldiers have been in the habit of doing big and important things. Ancient and modern history is replete with names of red-head warriors.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman
New York, Jan. 23.—Strength in the specialties was the feature of the stock market at the opening today, initial advances ranging from fractions to over one point. United Cigar Stores continued its upward movement and rose 1 1/4 to 99. U. S. Rubber advanced 1 1/4 to 56 1/4. American Beet Sugar gained 1 1/4 to 76 1/4. and Mexican Petroleum rose 3/4 to 91. Distillers rose 1/4 to 37 1/4 and Marine Preferred advanced 1/4 to 91 1/4. The steel stocks showed fractional gains, U. S. Steel selling 1/4 higher at 91 1/4, while advances of about 1/2 were made in Bethlehem Steel and Crucible. The copper stocks held steady, Anaconda selling up to 61 1/4, while American Smelting rose 3/4 to 82 1/4. The rails were slightly lower.

Although the market became broader and more active, recessions occurred in the late forenoon trading. Steel Common, after selling at 91 1/4, dropped to 90. Marine Preferred moved up 1/2 to 24 1/4. Many of the stocks which had shown good gains in the initial dealings reacted about one point. United Cigars lost all of its early gain, dropping to 97 1/4.

The market closed weak today; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular.

CELIBATES IN LARGE NUMBER

Seventeen Millions of Class in United States, Many Being Inferior to Married People.

"There are 17,000,000 celibates in the United States, according to a statement which has been going the rounds of the press, after originating in a magazine article on the sex question," says the Journal of Heredity. "Examination of the census schedules for 1910 indicates that this figure includes all males over twenty and all females over fifteen."

"A calculation based on such age limits is misleading, but the actual facts are quite striking enough. Persons thirty-five years of age or over are relatively unlikely to marry, and it seems fair to base computations on that age. They show, then, that there are nearly 2,000,000 unmarried men in the population, and about 1,250,000 unmarried women. There are about 1,500,000 unmarried women between the ages of twenty-five and thirty-four, and a considerable part of these are certain never to marry."

"The celibacy of these millions is, from a eugenic point of view, not wholly to be deplored. While the number includes many potential fathers and mothers of a desirable character, it is probable that, on the whole, these life-long celibates are eugenically inferior to the married population."

Legal Witticisms.

Stories from the law courts are apt to be good, legal wit being noted for its dryness. But this story claims no particular merit, except as showing the usefulness of a ready wit, observes the Christian Science Monitor. The counsel for the plaintiff was delivering an impassioned address. He was somewhat weighty in person, and happened to be leaning on a very old chair. In the middle of the torrent of eloquence, the chair gave way and the barrister lay on the floor in the midst of the wreckage. He got up and, unperturbed, pointing to the broken chair, said: "That proves the strength of my argument." The court smiled broadly, but laughed outright when the opposing counsel promptly replied: "The learned counsel's argument may be all that he claims for it, but it fell to the ground."

HIGHLAND.

Highland, Jan. 23.—Presbyterian members will hold their prayer meeting on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. LaMoree, and the Methodist people will hold theirs at the home of J. P. Whitley. All church going people are cordially invited to attend the services at either home. These meetings, we suppose, will continue to be held at homes as long as the coal question remains unsettled.

Mission Study Class of the Presbyterian Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lake, where a very interesting program was given.

Nelville Everett and family have all had severe colds. At present they are improving. There is a great deal of sickness all through the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bradshaw of Bridgeport, Conn., have been on a visit with relatives in this place the past week.

Mrs. J. P. Vandermark, mother of Mrs. L. E. Osterhout, died on Sunday, January 13. The funeral services were held at the late home on Thursday, the 17th. Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Osterhout at this time of bereavement from their many friends in this place.

Josiah Schoonmaker is ill at his home with a very severe cold.

Red Cross held a meeting Monday afternoon. There was a very good attendance, which was encouraging. Coal shortage seems to be the same. No prospect of any yet, and if these conditions continue it certainly will be disastrous, for many are out of work and no money to do anything with.

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Orsen Sheeley were surprised when twenty-five of their friends walked in their home. They all passed away the time in games and refreshments were served, and the wee small hours of the morning found all trudging to their homes feeling joyful and yet very sleepy.

Ladies' Auxiliary of First M. E. Church will hold their regular meeting on Friday afternoon, February 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodor DuBois on Maple avenue at 3 o'clock, when all members are expected to be present. Mrs. Charles high class will be presented. Seating capacity 1,500. The building is fire-proof and everything has been provided for the comfort and safety of the people who attend. The decorations are very pretty and the ventilation and heating is all that could be asked for as a broken bone.

George Main, Sr., has been home visiting his wife the past week. He is employed down the river at Yonkers. We hear he was looking fine and his many friends here were glad to see him.

Tuesday evening Rev. F. Demming, the district superintendent, was in this place and presided at the fourth quarterly conference of the M. E. Church. All the leaders of the various organizations of said church gave in their reports of work for the year and they were very satisfactory indeed, so one of the board informed.

If conditions remain through 1918 as they have started in, we fear for much progress in lines to obtain money. Yet the fact comes to all. Something must be done for the church for it cannot be run without funds, so by pluck and perseverance all expect to enter the field for work as soon as Hooverizing stops.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Constable entertained guests the past week from New York city.

We saw Captain R. H. Decker of Highland in Kingston last Friday. He was on a business trip. We used to often see him when he was on one of the boats plying from New York to Kingston. Since he gave up the captainship we do not run across him very often. We were glad to see him and have a friendly chat.

There was a good attendance at the prayer meeting last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilcox and a very interesting time was pronounced by all in attendance.

Miss Belle Brinckerhoff was a shopper in Poughkeepsie last Friday.

The proposed fair, which was scheduled for February 12 and 13, has not been called until May. We were informed this is to be a community affair to raise funds for the upkeep of the library and this takes considerable money to keep it going. The beginning of the efforts along the line, under the paralyzing conditions in regard to fuel, sugar and so forth, did not give the people much inspiration, enthusiasm or courage.

There are always a few people in all places who are faithful and indefatigable workers and such things as fairs, suppers and various entertainments requires strenuous work. The success of this fair will be largely dependent upon the whole community. If everyone earnestly unites for the purpose of making it a success and all get on the "firing line" and do their duty bravely and faithfully, glorious financial achievements will be realized.

Well now Highland folk can go to Poughkeepsie and attend the new theatre in Cannon street. It is fine. Everything up-to-date, and everything high class will be presented. Seating capacity 1,500. The building is fire-proof and everything has been provided for the comfort and safety of the people who attend. The decorations are very pretty and the ventilation and heating is all that could be asked for as a broken bone.

In the city it would be very tame to come down to going to these plays or pictures put on in country places, still we presume they will get their share of patronage. Still with the war cry it seems many things will have to go for a while until better conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Feeter spent a few days in New York city last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Witkoff were in the metropolis last week on business.

Mrs. Philip Schantz was in Poughkeepsie last week, also Mrs. Joseph Schantz. Every one makes trips now frequently for they cross on the ice bridge erected by the firm of Jack Frost and Company. This bridge is safe, we presume, as long as good cold weather prevails. After a thaw we prefer one put up by another company. Give us the old ferryboat when possible, we feel more safe.

We notice some of our stores close at 6:30; that is good; save coal, also electric light, which every one has been asked to be careful of; cut down your expenses is the cry.

The Rev. D. G. Lawson of Livingston Manor was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Lent at their home on Milton avenue.

Mrs. Amelia Elmendorf of Chanton Dale has been very ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Cornell. At this time, we are glad to report, she is improving nicely.

Louis Johnson of this place, who has had a nervous breakdown and been in St. Francis's Hospital, at Poughkeepsie, for some time, returned to his home on Vineyard avenue recently, and glad to say is improving at present, and their many friends hope to see him around as usual soon. Their daughter, Miss Lillian, who is attending a college in New Jersey, was home for the week end and her people were just delighted to see her.

Mrs. Daniel Kurtz was a shopper in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Abram Brinckerhoff, of Maple avenue, who has been in bed for several weeks, the result of a fall, breaking the hip, is improving as well as can be expected. Those things are so very slow, and she was always such an active woman it seems doubly hard for one to be compelled to lie in bed for so long a time. Her many friends in this place hope for her speedy recovery. Miss Rowena Harcourt is the nurse in attendance, and everything is being done for her comfort that is possible.

Mrs. Rhuel of Maple avenue spent Monday at Lake Katrine with relatives, and had a very pleasant time.

That Depends.

"I am thinking of getting a high-class automobile. Are the running expenses very heavy?"

"Very, especially the fines and the damage suits."

ACCOUNTS FOR GHOST COLORS

Eyes Is Especially Sensitive to Two Kinds of Perceptions, Light and Color Predominating.

In reply to an inquiry why are ghosts always seen clothed in white, a scientist states:

This is easily accounted for. As there have been no ghosts during historical times, we must assume that in all cases where ghosts have been actually seen we have to do with mere hallucinations caused by fever or some other disorders of the observer, where, therefore, the organ of sense, and particularly the eyes, registered impressions of objects that had no corresponding external existence. According to the minute descriptions of such apparitions given by patients to their physicians, the ghosts, with rare exceptions, were "clad in white." Now, our eye is sensitive to two kinds of perceptions, viz., light and color. In this case, where no definite color was perceived, the hallucination, in which only the organs of the eye sensitive to light are affected, is declared to be white.

Still, there are also colored apparitions of ghosts; nay, we can introduce into the body substances calculated to impair our sense of color. Thus, the immoderate use of hashish produces violent visions; of alcohol, blue ones; of atropin and skopolamin, red ones. Quinine and too much tobacco likewise produce red visions, while salicylic acid, digitalin and phenacetin cause light yellow sensations. The inhalation of carbonic oxide, and snake bite, too, are said to be followed by light yellow sensations of sight.

Smallest Farms in the World.

On the islands of Re and Oleron, near La Rochelle, France, according to Popular Science Monthly, are found the smallest farms in the world. Some of them are only one or two square yards in area, yet these tiny domains are carefully planted with a variety of crops, even including vineyards. The soil is extremely fertile. The repeated subdivision of estates among heirs and the dense population of the islands explain the existence of these Lilliputian properties.

SALE IS SEASON'S SUCCESS

Because Newark Did Not Realize on Smallwood Transaction Deficit Was Noted at End.

"The sale of one ball player frequently makes the season a success for a minor league club, when the loss of the money involved means failure," remarked a prominent International league man.

"Take the case of Newark and Walter Smallwood for example. Smallwood was the only player sold by the Newark club, the Yankees purchasing him. One of the conditions of the transfer, however, was that in the event of Smallwood being drafted the deal was off. Smallwood reported to the Yankees, was caught in the draft and left to join the National army, so the Yankees did not have to pay the price decided upon. If Newark had realized the amount involved in this deal the club would have closed the season with a balance in the treasury. It got nothing and ended the campaign with a deficit."

FAVOR BASEBALL IN EUROPE

Canadians Had 101 Teams in Series for Championship—French Show Interest in Game.

Some idea of the excellent work which the Canadian troops have done toward the spread of baseball in France and England may be gleaned from the fact that a series for the championship of the Canadian forces overseas was played in England this fall in which 101 teams took parts. A great many players who were members of minor leagues and semi-professional clubs in the dominion are "over there," and of the teams which took part in the championship series several were really first-class aggregations. The French also are reported to be greatly interested in our national game, and in years to come, when the war is over, and the affairs of the world are in a normal state again, a real world series may be an annual feature and the great American game have an international scope.

No Office Cgt.

A tradition of the office cat around a newspaper survives from earlier times, but it is only a tradition, for there is no such animal, notes an exchange. Probably he, or she, was once endorsed because of his supposed efficiency as a hunter of rats and mice, but no modern office is infested with rodents, and therefore it is not necessary that it should tolerate a cat.

Food for Thought.

"Am I the first girl you have ever loved?"

He thought awhile and then made reply:

"No, you are the kind of girl a fellow has to be educated up to."

And that seemed to set her to thinking.

STARVATION WAGES PAID FOR IRONING

New York Waist Manufacturers Discover Many Things in Connection With Business Before They Get Possession of West Union Street Plant.

With the taking over of the management of the factory which has been operated for some time at No. 1 West Union street under the name of the Kingston Waist Manufacturing Company today and its operation by Halpern & Friedman, shirt manufacturers of New York city, who were owners of the machinery, Samuel Freedman (his name is spelled differently from that of one of the firm which owns the plant and he is not a relative) and Samuel Gross have retired from the West Union street plant.

The factory on West Union street is now under the management of Mr. Krempel, who formerly was connected with the Bostonian Shirt Manufacturing Company of this city, and Louis Ginsburg, the owner of the building, will be associated with him. The firm of Halpern & Friedman has agreed to pay the wages due to employees and other bills for which they were guarantors, but will not pay the debts generally of the Kingston Waist Manufacturing Company.

Antedating the change which occurred at the factory is an interesting story of business, and a disclosure that while Halpern & Friedman were paying 14 cents a dozen for ironing waists after they were made, the Kingston Waist Manufacturing Company was paying its employees three and one-half cents for three dozen waists which were ironed. Halpern & Friedman believe in paying a living wage the same as they pay to their employees in New York. Under the scale of three and one-half cents for ironing three dozen waists, it is said to have been impossible for any woman to have earned more than about seventy-five cents a day at ironing.

The machines used in the business were furnished originally by Halpern & Friedman, who took a chattel mortgage covering all of them. As business increased and the number of employees increased to about forty, additional machines were sent to Kingston by Halpern & Friedman, who furnished them "on memo," and did not take any chattel mortgage. One of the three original partners withdrew from the company after it had been in operation for some time, receiving three notes due respectively one, two and three months. He is still holding the notes, and although poorer in cash he is richer in experience.

For some time Halpern & Friedman have been advancing money to Freedman and Gross, who complained to the New York manufacturers that they were unable to make ends meet. The manufacturers in New York insisted that the money thus advanced should be used to pay the employees, and finally required an agreement that the money thus advanced should be used to pay employees and for no other purpose.

Taking advantage of the five-day closing order of National Fuel Administrator Garfield, Halpern & Friedman came to Kingston to inquire into shortages in shipments which they believed they should have received, but were met with the statement that if the goods had been shipped they should have been received, and if the raw material shipped to Kingston from New York had been received here, it should have been manufactured into waists and returned to New York in finished form. Halpern & Friedman claimed that the Kingston Waist Manufacturing Company was indebted to them for about $400, but the Kingston manufacturers seemed unable to recall any part of the matter. Instead of having overdrawn their advances, $170 is Halpern & Friedman claimed, the New York manufacturers were indebted to them for about $135 for goods not paid for.

In making a search of records in the county clerk's office, Halpern & Friedman discovered that Freedman and Gross had executed a bill of lading on December 21 last to Herman Ginsburg of North Front street for the machines which had been sent "on memo," and which were not covered by the original chattel mortgage. When this discovery was made on Monday, there were threats of criminal proceedings. On Monday evening difficulties apparently had been adjusted satisfactorily to everyone, but on Tuesday morning Freedman and Gross discovered that they had overlooked some items and demanded payment.

In return to this demand on the part of the Kingston men, Halpern & Friedman demanded to know what had become of parts of some of the machines, and also various tools which had been sent to Kingston from New York. The West Union street partners were unable to give any information except to say that if they had been sent, they ought to be around "somewhere."

Halpern & Friedman followed up this demand by a second demand to know what had become of 110 spools of thread which are used in manufacturing and which are worth a dollar apiece. The thread was sent from New York last week and would have been received Monday, but of the shipment having gone by freight and part by express. About twenty spools of thread should be in a week, they thought, for the amount of manufacturing which was being carried on. The West Union street partners showed that there were twenty-five spools in the case, and the balance, if received, should be around "somewhere," except of course the spools which had been used in manufacturing. A visit by Halpern & Friedman to the express office and the freight depot disclosed that both had been received for by the West Union street men on Monday. After some discussion it was agreed that Freedman and Gross should account to Halpern & Friedman for fifty-two and one-half spools.

After a day of business argument, Halpern & Friedman agreed to pay the wages owing to employees and bills for which they had been guarantors. Freedman and Gross, for their part, agreed to turn over the keys of the building. All accounts between Halpern & Friedman and Freedman and Gross were cancelled.

Halpern & Friedman during their stay in town claim to have discovered an arrangement between the Kingston Waist Manufacturing Company and another local concern regarding the limit of wages to be paid to employees of both concerns which would have been of mutual advantage to the employers. They desired to have any such agreement but will continue the business at West Union street along the same lines as they conduct their other factories, with Mr. Krempel and Mr. Ginsburg in charge. No claim to ownership of the machines is now made by Herman Ginsburg of North Front street.

In the legal proceedings incident to the withdrawal of Freedman and Gross and the insulation of Halpern & Friedman, the New York manufacturers were represented by Andrew J. Cook; Newton H. Fessenden represented the West Union street men.

QUICK WORK REQUIRED.

A certain Irish Sergeant in one of the home regiments was exceedingly wroth when he discovered that one of his men had paid a visit to the regimental barber and was minus his mustache. He immediately went up to him.

"Private Jones," he roared, "who on earth gave you permission to get that mustache off?"

"Nobody," answered Jones unconcernedly, "only I thought it would improve my appearance."

"Improve your appearance with a face like yours!" bawled the enraged sergeant. "If yer don't hvy it on again at the afternoon parade today there'll be trouble!"

Little Pitchers.

Young Hopeful—If you're coming to our house to supper tomorrow, you won't get anything to eat.

Friendly Neighbor—Why, Tommy, what do you mean?

Young Hopeful—I heard pa tell ma she'd have to get some cheap chicken feed for her old hen party.

MAKING A HIT.

The Comedian—While I was on I saw the young lady in box D look at me and then speak to the older lady. Did you hear what she said, boy?

A Refined Request.

"I hear," said the ultra fashionable lady, "that some sugar comes from a refinery. Does your sugar come from a refinery?"

"Yes, madam."

"Well, give me some of the most refined you have."

In Doubt.

"What do you think of the new minister?"

"Don't know yet. He hasn't been here long enough for me to discover whether he is going to preach the kind of sermons I ought to hear or the kind I like to hear."

A Reduction.

"Do you find your expenses lessening in any way?"

"Well?" replies the man who tries to be cheerful, "since I took up this food control idea I don't have to buy nearly so many dyspepsia tablets."

Unfavorable Outlook.

Church—I understand if the sun were made of solid coal it would burn out in less than 5,000 years.

Gotham—Yes, and think what we'd have to pay for sunlight.

TADAJWSEKI IS FREED BY JURY

John Tadjawseki, the truckman of Gross street, was found not guilty by a jury Tuesday evening in city court of the charge of assaulting Mrs. Nora Fadoul of 55 Chambers street with a coal basket. John was arrested some time ago on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Fadoul, charging him with assault in the third degree. At the time he was arraigned he demanded a jury trial and the case was adjourned until Tuesday. John was represented by Judge N. Frank O'Reilly and John M. Cashin, while Amos Van Etten appeared for Mrs. Fadoul.

The jurors who heard the case were Joseph Volk, Jr., E. F. MacFadden, Melvin Wells, William Gronemeyer, Emerick Schilling and Schuyler C. Shultz.

According to the testimony as brought out John had gone to the house, in which four families reside, with a half a ton of coal for Mrs. Nellie Augustine. As the walk leading to the woodshed was icy he threw ashes on the walk. This was objected to by Mrs. Fadoul, who, according to the jury, came for him with a broom, took the broom away from her and she then secured an axe, and he picked up an iron coal basket to ward off the blow and that she was struck by the basket by his efforts to parry a blow.

Mrs. Fadoul's reason for not wanting ashes on the walk was because "they tracked into the house."

Mrs. Fadoul, who is 60 years old, and Dr. C. F. Keefe, who attended her, were the first witnesses called. Then John told his side of the story. Jacob Furmansky, owner of the house, was also called as a witness.

Frank R. Powley and William A. Frey, officers of the Kingston Coal Company, were called by Judge O'Reilly as character witnesses, and testified that as far as they knew John bore a good character. John is not employed by the coal company, but trucks coal from the yard.

The jury at the close of the case took about ten minutes to reach a verdict of not guilty and John was discharged.

U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION
HINTS IN HOME ECONOMICS.

Try These on Meatless Day.

We may yet speak of meat as a substitute for cheese, nuts and fish. But now the United States Food Administration gently but firmly introduces us to these foods which are only waiting for a chance to be our friends.

Cheese Omelet.

1 heaping tablespoon minute tapioca. 1/2 teaspoon salt. 1/2 teaspoon pepper or paprika. 2 tablespoons grated cheese. 2 eggs. 1/2 teaspoon mustard. 1 cup hot milk. 1/2 tablespoon olive oil or other cooking oil.

Cook the minute tapioca, salt, pepper, cheese and mustard in the hot milk for 10 minutes, stirring frequently, then add 1/2 tablespoon of the oil and the yolks of the eggs beaten until very light. Stir well, remove from the fire and fold into the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Put the remainder of the oil into an omelet pan and when it bubbles pour in the prepared eggs. Gently shake the pan so the omelet will not adhere to it and cook until it is a delicate brown on the bottom, then stand the pan in the oven for a few moments to cook the top. Lightly score the center and fold over. Remove to a hot platter and send to the table at once. Garnish with water cress or parsley.

Fish Timbales.

1 cup flaked fish, free from skin and bones. 1/2 cup bread crumbs. 1 egg. 1/4 to 1/2 cup milk. 2 teaspoons lemon juice. 1/2 teaspoon salt. 1/2 teaspoon pepper. 1/2 cup green peas. 1 teaspoon chopped parsley.

Mix first seven ingredients together, using enough milk to make packing consistency. Grease timbale molds very thoroughly, pack in the mixture and bake in a moderate oven in a pan of hot water until firm. Turn out on a hot platter. Serve with a white sauce in which has been stirred 1/4 cup green peas. Garnish with parsley.

Peanut Butter Loaf.

1 cup mashed potatoes. 1 cup peanut butter. 1 egg. 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley. 2 teaspoons salt. 2 teaspoons grated onion. 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg. 1/2 teaspoon paprika. To the hot mashed potatoes add the peanut butter, well beaten egg and other ingredients. Put in greased pan and bake in hot oven 35 to 40 minutes.

Facing the Facts.

We can work for a time on our emotions, but it is only when we are willing to face the facts in the case that we can really shoulder the burden at hand and carry it to the finish.

Now the facts in the feeding of the army we plan to send over to France are these: This army would eat 13,350,000 pounds of beef a month, 3,375,000 pounds of bacon, 1,375,000 cans of fresh roast beef, bashed corned beef, corned beef, and salmon, 1,350,000 pounds of flour and 3,000,000 pounds of sugar a month.

If we are going to keep our soldiers we are sending "over there" in good health, we must somehow manage to send them this much food a month.

In addition to this, because our fields have not yet been ravaged by war, and because, too, we are able to keep a fair proportion of men on our farms, the allies look to us to provide a great part of their food supply. This means that millions more tons of food must be drained from our resources, if this war is going to bring victory to us instead of to Germany.

When we are willing to face these facts, then we will begin in earnest to save the food that is wanted for these big shipments abroad. Until then, we will economize one day—the day perhaps, we read some pathetic story of hungry little French children. But the next day we will forget and go our old way with reckless disregard of the price this country and the allies will pay for our selfishness.

less disregard of the price this country and the allies will pay for our selfishness.

But when we face the facts squarely, then there is not an American woman who will not come forward and shoulder her part of this great burden of saving food with the same plucky determination "to do or die" that is sending thousands of our boys today bravely into the trenches in France.

And once we have steeled our wills for the fight, the rest is easy. Such are the wonderful resources of this country, that for every kind of food we are asked to save there are two or more other foods that we can substitute with no loss of nourishment or palatability.

Thus we have already found that corn, oatmeal, rye and barley can be substituted for a great part of our wheat, and for our meat, animal fats and sugar there are other appetizing, and nourishing substitutes that can be used in part for them.

Substitutes for sugar include raisins, honey, maple syrup, corn syrup, sorghum and molasses; for red meats, fish, poultry, game, beans, nuts; for animal fats, the various vegetable oils.

Plans are being made to hold a get-together supper for the high school boys next Wednesday at 8 o'clock. Tickets are 20 cents each and will be in the hands of I. Rosenthal, John Cooper, Channing Clapp, Sam Smith and Berntsen Bishop. Tickets can be secured of them up until Tuesday night. This is open for non-members as well as members of the Y. M. C. A. There will be music and an interesting speaker. These functions will be held every two weeks if it proves popular with the fellows.

Sunday 4 p. m. a big meeting for all boys 12 to 16 years will be held. Rev. P. C. Weyant, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church will speak. Doors open at 3:30. Meeting held on second floor in boys' rooms. Use boys' entrance.

Ladies' Day on the Bowling Alleys.

Through the recommendation of the secretary, F. L. Thornberry, of the Central Y. M. C. A., the board of directors have given their permission for the ladies to use the bowling alleys on Thursday of each week. In the afternoon the alleys will be held for the exclusive use of the gentle sex and will be under the direct supervision of the association management. This will be an excellent opportunity for the ladies of Kingston to indulge in this wholesome pastime as a competent man will be in charge of the alleys and will gladly coach those ladies who are not familiar with the game and see to it that the very best of service on the part of the pin boys is available. In the evening the alleys will be turned over to the members of the Y. M. C. A. and their lady friends and to the members of the physical department of the Ladies' Auxiliary and their escorts. In order that the ladies may enjoy bowling to the fullest extent duckpins with the small balls have been placed on the alleys. The size of the balls used with duck-pins is such that the ladies can use them without any inconvenience and will suffer no physical strain. Mr. Thornberry told a representative of The Freeman that this would be a fine opportunity for bowling parties to be arranged and a wholesome social time to be had in this most popular indoor sport.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

Deep, Dark Mystery Surrounds the Finding of the Kaiser's Picture on Sidewalks of City—Who Distributed Them?

"Well did you get one of the Kaiser's pictures?" asked the City Hall Oracle as the Casual Visitor dropped into the city hall for a few minutes this morning.

"What's that?" asked the Casual Visitor somewhat indignantly.

"I asked you if you got the Kaiser's picture," replied the City Hall Oracle.

"I would not be guilty of having one hanging in the woodshed," retorted the Casual Visitor.

"I did not ask you that," interrupted the City Hall Oracle.

"What do you mean anyway?" asked the Casual Visitor, "trying to find out if I am patriotic or not?"

"Nothing of the kind," the City Hall Oracle hastened to assure him, "but there is a deep and dark mystery about."

"What's the mystery?" asked the Casual Visitor.

"Some time Monday night," explained the City Hall Oracle, "some one unknown went through Broadway distributing on the sidewalk large pictures of the Kaiser with directions to fill it with crayons."

"What's that?" interrupted the Casual Visitor.

"I was trying to tell you," continued the City Hall Oracle, "that some time Monday night some one threw away a lot of pictures of the Kaiser."

"How do you know?" interrupted the Casual Visitor again.

"Because I happened to be in police headquarters at the time the matter was reported," explained the City Hall Oracle patiently, "and Sergeant Hanley went out to investigate the complaint and came back, with three of the pictures which he had found on the sidewalk between the city hall and the West Shore crossing."

"Where are they?" asked the Casual Visitor.

"Here is one of them," replied the City Hall Oracle pulling one out of his pocket and showing it to him.

The pictures found were on plain white paper about 10 by 30 inches in size and contained instructions on the bottom to fill in with colored crayons as directed and gave the colors to be used in filling in the pictures. The "joke" was the name of the company printing the pictures which was printed at the bottom and read, "I. Schomham & Co., N. Y."

"Maybe some one did it as a joke," suggested the Casual Visitor after glancing at the picture.

"If he did it was a mighty poor joke at this time," replied the City Hall Oracle, "and some one would undoubtedly make it hot for the 'joker' if caught."

Clear Conscience.

Say, old fellow, don't carry the joke too far. Send the umbrella to Room 11, Fraternity Building. If the owner is not in just set it up beside the door. Or if you have that weak feeling and are in need of a tonic, and not able to climb the stairway, you can just pitch the shower stick in at the lower door entrance and return home, or any old place you like, carrying a clear conscience of one having done a good and worthy deed. Try it once.—Winchester Sun.

Besides, he does not have to fear getting himself into a "jab" with the department of public safety, as it rarely

DURACK TO VISIT AMERICA

Negotiations Have Been Concluded for Visit of Australian Swimmer to This Country.

William Umack of San Francisco, formerly an official of the Pacific A. A. U., authorizes the statement that negotiations have been concluded for the visit to this country of Miss Fineline Durack, the famous Australian swimmer, who holds nearly all the world's records for women. It is quite surprising news, for only a few weeks ago cables from Sydney, New South Wales, announced the departure of Miss Duraek for "somewhere at the front" as a Red Cross nurse. Unluckily, however, is positive in his statement.

BASKET BALL
FRIDAY NIGHT

The Kingston high school varsity basketball team will play the Saugerties team Friday night at eight o'clock. Of course there will be dancing between the halves and for a while after the game. Just enough dancing so that the visitors will have an opportunity of keeping warm. Now in case the public wants to worry about the extra use of coal the following explanation will show them that there is no need of worrying. The gymnasium will have to be cool while the boys are playing and will also have to be cool while the rooters are dancing, so you see that there will be no more coal used than there would be under ordinary circumstances.

New perchance you neither dance nor play, while the game is going on you will be plenty warm enough, for as the high school football captain once said, "you need not be afraid of the cold for its going to be a red hot game." Then perchance you do not dance, why bring your coats along.

The reasons why you should come to the game. You ought to come to the game because the boys need your financial support. You would not like for them to go in debt so come and give them your support. The boys have only played two games this year, one at Kingston, the other at Catskill; the one they lost, the other they won; so you see they are in want of your spiritual aid also. Not only these rather secondary or supplementary reasons, but more than these, it is your duty, fellow citizens, to come and see these five or six boys uphold the name of Kingston high and Kingston city. And you cannot help but see that without your support they will be at the greatest of disadvantages. So spend a quarter and come and enjoy yourself while you are doing your duty. Its seldom you get the opportunity.

LOCAL FARMERS TO GET NITRATE

Government to Sell Nitrate For Fertilizer Through County Agent—Where Orders May Be Given.

Notice has been given to W. H. Hook, Agricultural Agent for Ulster county, that the U. S. Department of Agriculture will sell at cost a supply of nitrate of soda to farmers in Ulster county.

The nitrate was purchased through the War Industries Board under the authority of the Food Control Act as a part of the program for stimulating agricultural production. It will be sold at 10¢ per pound and the price will be $75.50 a ton, free on board cars at port of arrival. Farmers are to pay in addition freight from port of arrival and the state fertilizer tag fee.

How to Obtain Nitrate.

Applications for a part of the 100,000 tons of nitrate bought by the government will be received only from actual farmers or owners or holders of farms for use on their land, and may be made through County Agent W. H. Hook, Kingston, or through any member of a local committee consisting of C. F. Cochran, Kingston; H. L. Smith, Ellenville; J. R. McLaughlin, Highland; Martin Cantone, Saugerties; Gross Schoonmaker, Accord; L. C. Barnes, New Paltz, and Charles Jansen, Wallkill.

No money will be required with the application but upon notice from the county agent farmers who have signed applications must deposit with a local bank, association, or individual, designated by the secretary of agriculture to act as the farmers' agent for that purpose, money to cover the cost of the fertilizer except the freight charge. After the money is transmitted to Washington the nitrate will be shipped to the farmers. If applications for the nitrate exceed the supply of about 100,000 tons the government will allot the supply on a pro rata basis among those who applied. Applications must be received by February 4.

MORAN BUSINESS SCHOOL.

Teaching Staff Includes Well-Known Educators of Long Experience.

Aside from the securing of positions for graduates, one of the principal reasons for the rapid growth of Moran Business School, Fair and Main streets, which is now entering upon its fourth year—is the fact that many hundreds of men and women, in all walks of life, received their initial training from members of its teaching staff.

The names of Principal John J. Moran, who heads the faculty, and Miss L. M. Doty, who is in charge of the stenographic department, have been outstanding figures in the educational field for many years. During 1917, Joseph J. Morgan, associate principal, and Albert Dubois Desautels, instructor, became actively connected with the school. Although the school year is only little more than half spent, a new high record mark in enrollments has already been established, with indications of continued expansion on a large scale.

Quite a number of permits for Uncle Sam's army of stenographers and clerical workers may be found in the class of 1918. These young people have recognized the thoroughness of the courses in civil service preparation, a special feature of the training at Moran School, and in a few short months they will be rendering efficient service to the government, helping to win the war. Excellent progress is being made in all departments. Especially noticeable is the unusual number of expert penmen in this year's class; they are preparing to make use of their special talents in a manner that will prove most remunerative.
